DETAILED ACTION

(1). Applicants' Amendments and Remarks filed on 05/14/2008 have been received.

Claims 1 and 18 are amended.

The 112 2nd rejection of claim 10 in prior Office Action dated 01/14/2008 is removed in view of the correct claim sheets.

The rejection for claims 1-22 in prior Office Action dated 1/14/2008 is withdrawn in view of the current Amendments and Remarks.

Allowable Subject Matter

(2). Claims 1 - 22 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

(3). The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Instant Application is allowable in view of the glass particles distributed in polymeric matrix in a content of more than 60% up to 85% with preponderant fraction having a size distribution from 0.2 to 1.5 mm. Applicants' Affidavits further demonstrates the comparison of glass beads and quartz in the tests. The Quartz composition absorbs water double the quantity of water absorbed by glass beads composition. Glass beads composition showed a compact surface with no visible pores while the quartz composition showed an irregular surface with clearly visible open micropores that results high water penetration. Closest prior art Leverrier (US05877246A) discloses moulding material composition, Leverrier does not teach the high amount of glass beads as claimed. Minghetti et al (US05705552A) disclose the thermoformable acrylic sheet with 20 to 60 wt% solid particle dispersed therein. However, the particle size is less than 90 microns. Although Schock (US05218013A) disclose the composition comprises 60 to 80 wt% of quartz particles in polymeric matrix in a size ranged from 0.1 mm to 2 mm, the evidence of unexpected results or surprising property provided by Applicants overcomes any combined teaching of glass beads filler with Schock. Conclusively, claims 1-22 are considered to be novel and passed to issue.

Art Unit: 1797

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
